

New Release: From PEN Award Winner and ‘Most Classified Woman in the U.S.’ Sibel Edmonds Comes a Powerful Novel that Exposes the International Government Conspiracies Threatening Our Daily Lives

“As good as any Clancy or Ludlum novel ... one of the best action, thriller, spy novels I’ve ever read.”
—Washington’s Blog

Assassinations. Drug running. False flag ops. A shadow paramilitary global network. Synthetic wars. CIA-NATO: A darker truth. Operation Gladio Plan B: Murder.

OG 68—a k a Greg McPhearson—no longer works for the company. The hunter has now become prey. He knows this beast: what created him and shattered his soul. Until Mai. When he opened the door to her three years ago, he opened what soul he had left. Yet no amount of pride or power, he discovers—too late—can ever replace one precious breath ...

When a sting is called off at the last minute by his FBI bosses per order of the CIA, Special Agent Ryan Marcello decides to do some digging. He calls in senior analyst Elsie Simon, expert in the Turkey-Central Asian-Caucasus nexus, to help track down the high-level target with ties to ruthless power players in a global narcotics-terrorism ring. Every lead and each new suspect brings them that much closer to home. With Elsie’s help, and at risk to their lives, the two begin their own investigation ...

The murdered son of a U.S. mogul leads to the hiring of Ryan and Elsie, who are used and then trapped in a byzantine scheme of retribution: of black ops within black ops, trails gone cold, kidnappings, blackmail, unexplained murders ... a plot that extends from Russia and Azerbaijan to Cambodia, Vietnam, and is buried inside the Deep State.

For the final mission, in a world where reality now stands on its head—“my enemy’s enemy is my enemy”—no one would be spared. The Gladio would be acting alone ...

About the Author

Sibel Edmonds is editor of Boiling Frogs Post, found-director of the National Security Whistleblowers Coalition, and author of the acclaimed book Classified Woman: The Sibel Edmonds Story. She is the recipient of the 2006 PEN/Newman’s Own First Amendment Award. Ms. Edmonds has been subjected to several government-asserted State Secrets Privilege orders, and the U.S. Congress has been indefinitely gagged and prevented from taking up her case through unprecedented retroactive classification orders issued by the Department of Justice. She is nationally recognized as the most classified woman in the United States. Ms. Edmonds is a certified linguist, fluent in four languages, and has an MA in public policy from George Mason University and a BA in criminal justice and psychology from George Washington University.

Praise for Sibel Edmonds' Classified Woman

“What I find so remarkable is Sibel’s persistence in trying every avenue and possible outlet in trying to get the truth out. If her book can inspire readers to summon even 1/100th of the determination and resolve she has modeled, there’s hope for us!”

— Coleen Rowley, Retired FBI Agent
& Time Magazine Person of the Year, 2002

*

“I’ve read a million reviews of nonfiction books about our government that referred to them as ‘page-turners’ and ‘gripping dramas,’ but I had never read a book that actually fit that description until now. This book is a masterpiece.”

—David Swanson, Author
& Activist, WarisaCrime.Org

On Sibel Edmond’s Case

“Sibel Edmonds would not let an intimidating FBI shut her mouth, and as a result, suffered grievous consequences, but she has persevered and we are better off for her sacrifices.”

—Paul Newman

“Edmonds must feel a bit like Alice at the tea party, where just ice is not being served, and where a secret is a secret but why it's a secret or who says it's a secret is a secret, and we can't tell you why because it's a secret.”

—Seattle Post

*

“The silencing of Edmonds has been remarkably silent. Which is probably just what the FBI was counting on in the first place.”

—Clay Risen, The New Republic

*

“She's credible. And the reason I feel she's very credible is because people within the FBI have corroborated a lot of her story.”

—Sen. Grassley on 60 Minutes
